LOOKING TO ORDER SOME UAW APPAREL?

Officialshirtsplus.com is where you can go to order some apparel.

All orders are made by you, online with a debit/credit card or PayPal and delivered right to your home. They offer different designs throughout the year. Shipping will take a few weeks depending on the size of your order and what you order. No minimum quantities need to be met to order.

Please note: when you click to view the item, in most cases you can add the Local number 2262 in the box for no additional cost. If you leave it blank or the box doesn't appear then the item would NOT have Local 2262 on it.

UAW Local 2262, Region 2B, or the International UAW are not responsible for any items purchased or transactions through this site, with the vendor or any shipping issues. If you do have an issue, please address them with the appropriate party.

A few of us have ordered apparel through them with no issues whatsoever.

WEAR R.E.D ON FRIDAY'S

Remember Everyone Deployed

Wearing RED on Fridays is to show our support for military personal deployed. The color RED in this case represents remembrance and sacrifice. The choice of Friday, just before the weekend, is a reminder that while many of us are home with loved ones, others are still serving far from theirs.

WEAR RED ON WEDNESDAY'S

Wearing RED on Wednesday's, shows Solidarity and Strength.

When a sea of RED shirts greets management, it's a positive way to make a statement that WE, the workers stand together.

Solidarity

Solidarity is not just a word, but an action. The companies are never our friends. They are driven by profits and forget that the workers are the ones that work tirelessly to make them money. Corporate greed is alive and well. This is why we have unions. This is why workers like our grandfathers or grandmothers stood up and fought for the right to have a voice in the workplace. It is up to every single one of us to continue to fight for workers everywhere and stand with each other regardless of our disagreements. Our most valuable resource is our labor. The time and energy given to our employer belongs to us, not them.

With solidarity, you as a member can and need to demand more.

Our ability to fight for our members is directly related to the solidarity our members have. Companies break contracts all the time. Our only action is the grievance procedure. At times the grievance procedure can take a lot more time than we'd like. Read your contracts, the UAW Constitution, and your local Union by-laws. This is where your rights and obligations as a union member are located.

The UAW is a member driven organization. Your elected officials work for you. Internationally elected officials work for you by providing the resources and support that your local union needs. It's the membership that holds all the accountability to put people in positions that are willing to fight for ALL members.

There is mass power in solidarity along with being part of a labor organization, means great things for all members. Are you willing to come together as one and show solidarity?

Solidarity is like a gym membership; you have to put the work in to see results.

UAW Local 2262 Heads to the 2026 UAW National Bowling Finals!

LOCAL 2262 REPRESENTS IN A HISTORIC EVENT

A TRADITION OF SOLIDARITY AND INCLUSION

This historic event continues a proud tradition dating back to 1948, when the UAW first launched its Bowling Tournaments to build solidarity beyond the worksites and break down racial barriers among members.

(See the story in the Civil & Human Rights standing Committee sections)

Local 2262 stands tall among the best, carrying forward that legacy of unity, teamwork, and brotherhood.

WE WISH YOU THE BEST OF LUCK AT THUNDERBOWL LANES!

Civil & Human Rights Standing Committee

A strike for justice

The UAW was a key player in knocking down racial barriers in bowling

Bowling has a way of creating solidarity outside the workplace like no other activity. Amid the repeated thumps of balls hitting the alleys and crashing into pins, we gather at our local alleys to compete and socialize with our union brothers and sisters. By the mid-1940s, it was America's most popular participation sport and remains popular among our members today.

As popular as it became, it was not always a sport that allowed everyone to bowl together.

Walter Reuther recognized that only white UAW members could enjoy the sport because the American

Bowling Congress (ABC), bowling's sanctioning body, limited participation in its events to whites at the nation's 75,000 alleys. Reuther could not accept that while our union was working hard to desegregate the workplace, that work was being undermined because of discrimination in society. A year after becoming UAW president in 1946, he put the UAW at the forefront of the national movement to desegregate bowling alleys across the nation.

"The UAW has an extraordinary history of commitment to diversity and fighting for the rights of all people. We have led the fight for equal rights in the workplace throughout the more than 85 years of our collective bargaining history," said UAW President Ray Curry.

It's with that history that some of the top bowlers from locals from across the nation will gather in suburban Detroit to compete in the International UAW Finals Bowling Championship on May 7. This tournament was first held in 1948 as a response to the ABC's discriminatory policy and the fact that the Detroit Bowling Proprietors' Association banned

African-Americans from city bowling alleys.

The UAW's strong participation in desegregating bowling alleys is an important piece of our union's history, said Alyce Graves Kirk, a Local 6000 retiree who bowls in two leagues. While there may be some people who believe that unions should stick to issues within their workplaces, Kirk is thankful that her union took a stand for equal rights for all.

"It's one of the main things I think a union should fight for," Kirk said. The former eligibility specialist for the Michigan Department of Human Services added that younger members of the union can learn a great deal from this moment in our union's history – and get involved to ensure rights are preserved.

In 1946, Father Charles Carow, a member of the ABC's executive board and of the executive committee of the Catholic Youth Organization in New York, petitioned the ABC board to rescind its discriminatory policy to no avail. But his efforts caught Reuther's attention. Reuther soon instructed William H. Oliver, co-director of the UAW Fair Practices Department, to form a national committee to pressure ABC to desegregate. Reuther also gave Olga Madar, the director of the UAW Recreation Department who would later become the union's first female vice president, the task of eliminating racial bias in organized UAW bowling. The Recreation Department took the campaign to UAW locals across the country to get reluctant white bowlers to break with the ABC and the Women's International Bowling Congress (WIBC).

It wasn't easy work. John D'Agostino and Jess Corona, two Recreation Department staffers, were given the assignment of taking the campaign to bowling alleys where UAW members bowled. D'Agostino told Solidarity magazine in 1995 that he recalled a particularly rough confrontation at a Detroit local.

"It was a very heated meeting. The members were very angry that we might take bowling away from them," said D'Agostino, who needed an escort by a local officer to ensure his safety when he left the meeting.

"We are not trying to deprive our membership of the right to bowl," he wrote one union local in Ohio. "But we would like them to bowl unsanctioned. How else are we going to break the un-American, un-democratic ABC organization?"

The UAW formed the National Committee for Fair Play in Bowling (NCFPB) and recognized it needed a strong personality with persuasive political skills to lead the committee and draw other prestigious Americans to the fight. Oliver and another union member, Joseph V. Tuma, went to Minneapolis to convince its young mayor, Hubert H. Humphrey, to chair the committee. Humphrey, a progressive who would later become a U.S. senator and vice president, was a strong labor supporter who formed his own aversion to racial discrimination while attending graduate school in the Deep South. Humphrey's participation helped draw notables such as World Heavyweight Boxing Champion Joe Louis, Women's Open Golf Champion Betty Hicks, NAACP President Walter White and others to the committee.

Soon, the UAW and other organizations decided to hold separate All-American Bowling Tournaments in major cities to compete with the ABC. The first was held in Detroit at the Eastern Market Rec Center and was the hardest to organize because many bowling proprietors, pressured by the Bowling Proprietors Association of Greater Detroit, refused to let the union use their lanes. Our union established the UAW International Bowling Championships and held the first one in January 1948 at Herbert Fenton's Dexter Recreation Center. Pressure began to build on the ABC as more tournaments were held and other prominent individuals and organizations joined the cause.

In March 1948, the ABC had an opportunity to rescind its racist policy, but declined. Humphrey and the UAW were undeterred.

"Despite this decision, many of the organizations and people who have worked with us are now more determined than ever to guide our program to a successful conclusion, and they feel that, in so doing, victory will be ours," Oliver wrote to Humphrey, who wrote back:

"I am particularly encouraged when I read about the successful tournaments we are holding," Humphrey said in his letter. "It is very important to destroy by concrete action the myths and stereotypes and rationalizations which are used to defend discrimination."

In December 1948, the UAW, along with numerous other organizations, took legal action against the ABC, based on a New Jersey law outlawing discrimination. It delayed legal action until March of the following year, when the ABC again refused to lift the "whites only" clause. With Humphrey recently elected to the Senate, it was the UAW's Oliver who guided the effort to win the campaign. After a full year of legal wrangling in many states, the state of Illinois found that the ABC had violated its anti-discrimination law, fined it $2,500 and threatened to void its Illinois chapter. In August 1950, the ABC finally relented and its competitions were now open to all. The WIBC soon followed.

Desegregation in bowling came along slowly outside the UAW. Local 6000's Kirk remembers when she started bowling in the late 1970s, there were still bowling proprietors in non-UAW affiliated leagues that practiced discrimination. She's proud of her union's role in desegregating the sport.

"I think if it wasn't for people in the UAW who put some of those ideas out there and got people to accept them, nothing would have changed," Kirk said.

Editor's note: Some of the historical background in this piece can be attributed to "More than Sports: How Hubert H. Humphrey and the United Auto Workers Union helped to achieve the Desegregation of Bowling in America 1946-1950," a 2005 research paper by Malina Iida, then a law student at the University of Hawaii, and John C. Walter, professor emeritus at the University of Washington.

UAW LOCAL 2262 • KNOWLEDGE IS POWER

Education Standing Committee

Did you Know the UAW has what is referred to as Standing Committees?

Do you know what they are or what they actually do?

Local Union Standing Committees are the tools through which the policies and programs aimed at strengthening our union are put to work. Local Union Standing Committees are made up of individuals who may have a special interest or strength in a particular area or they may just want to learn more about a subject and find a way to contribute to the labor movement.

These roles help make our Union stronger.

Local Union Standing Committees:

Citizenship and Legislative Committee

Referred to as the CAP, (Community Action Program)

The CAP committee assists in voter registration and get-out-the-vote drives, dollar drives, letter writing campaigns, and publicizing the issues and positions of public officials.

Civil and Human Rights Committee

This committee is an essential guardian of the “No Discrimination” policy of our union. Members of this committee fulfill the local union’s commitment to assure members full rights regardless of religion, race, creed, color, sex, political affiliation, national origin, age, disability, marital status or sexual orientation.

Community Services Committee

This committee performs the important task of getting help for members and their families in a time of need.

Some examples of activities they help with are:

organ donor awareness, food drives, and blood drives, Support during layoffs, worksite closings, and strikes etc....

Conservation and Recreation Committee

This committee has 2 categories, Recreation, which is leisure time activities, and Conservation, which is environmental concerns. On this committee you would help with organizing events like Holiday parties and picnics. This committee is also an avenue to explore environmental concerns you may have.

Consumer Affairs Committee

This committee educates members on issues that affect all consumers such as: Child labor, truth in lending, truth in packaging, truth in advertising, utilities, and consumer fraud, and other various consumer protection activities and legislation.

Education Standing Committee

Local Union Standing Committees:

Constitution and Bylaws Committee

This committee with the bylaws of the local, the UAW Constitution, set out the rules by which the local operates.

Members of this committee are responsible for submitting original and/or amended bylaws provisions to the local union membership for discussion and approval. They monitor the required local union bylaws amendment procedure to ensure compliance with the current bylaws and constitutional provisions

Education Committee

This committee determines the needs of the membership and provides classes, material, and information based on these needs. They are committed to provide education that informs, develops skills and motivates our leadership and members.

Union Label Committee

This committee supports the labor movement by informing and educating members about the products we buy as consumers. They also help bring attention to those products produced under non-union conditions and by anti-labor manufacturers. They also identify items that are on the “boycott” list and encourage rank and file support of these boycotts.

Veterans Committee

This committee represents the interest of all active and retired UAW veterans and their families. They are dedicated to advocating for the political and social concerns of veterans through Leadership, guidance, and education on matters of concern such as: The Agent Orange Act of 1991, The Persian Gulf Conflict, dependent care, disabilities, benefits, etc....

Women’s Committee

This committee works to further the gains of women in the workplace as well as society. They encourage women to be active in local, national and community causes and programs.

Organizing

The Organizing Committee exists to build union power by growing membership, strengthening solidarity, and supporting organizing drives both inside and outside the local. Its mission aligns with the UAW’s core values of expanding worker power, building strong contracts, and ensuring every worker has a voice.

If any of these Standing Committees interest you, please let a Steward or Bargaining Committee member know and we can help you join.

Know anyone interested in Unionizing?

We can help! see The UAW Local 2262 Organizing Committee of Ralph L. Nazario, Chris Walker, Bernard Thomas or Ron Wiech for details. Below is from the NLRB website.

Your Right to Form a Union

Not represented by a union, but want to be?

If a majority of workers wants to form a union, they can select a union in one of two ways: If at least 30% of workers sign cards or a petition saying they want a union, the NLRB will conduct an election. If a majority of those who vote choose the union, the NLRB will certify the union as your representative for collective bargaining. An election is not the only way a union can become your representative. Your employer may voluntarily recognize a union based on evidence - typically signed union-authorization cards - that a majority of employees want it to represent them. Once a union has been certified or recognized, the employer is required to bargain over your terms and conditions of employment with your union representative. Special rules apply in the construction industry.
